YUKON BIRDATHON

Feature Birder – Taylor Belansky

This year, supporting community health and the Food Bank.

A keen new birder, Taylor Belansky arrived in Whitehorse in 2016 to begin her studies towards a Bachelor of Science degree in Environmental and Conservation Science (Yukon College / University of Alberta). It was an ornithology class with Dr. Katie Aitken that helped her fall in love with birds. Taylor is this year's recipient of the Yukon Bird

Club's Conservation Scholarship Award (presented by Shyloh in the photo), and the club's new Youth Coordinator. She'll be encouraging more young people and her classmates to participate in this year's Birdathon. As well as raising funds for the Food Bank, Taylor is going to be an environmental and covid-conscious birder. She'll be honing her bird ID skills while exploring her Riverdale neighbourhood. Happy birding Taylor!
